EWR2 Programme Summary – June 23

An aerial photograph showing a long, straight section of a road under construction or maintenance. The road is flanked by green fields on the left and a mix of construction materials, a pond, and a parking area on the right. In the background, there are residential buildings and a larger industrial or commercial area with many parked cars.

A1 Compound Charbridge Lane

An aerial photograph showing a complex road interchange. A multi-lane highway runs horizontally across the top. A road, identified as Bicester Road, runs vertically through the center, passing under the highway via a bridge. To the right of the vertical road, Charbridge Lane branches off, curving around a large green field. The area includes various industrial buildings, parking lots with cars and trucks, and some construction or maintenance work visible on the ground.

Bicester Road and Charbridge Lane

An aerial photograph showing a multi-lane asphalt bridge crossing over a set of railway tracks. The bridge is supported by concrete pillars. On either side of the tracks, there are green fields with rows of young plants, possibly a nursery or agricultural field. In the background, there's a small white house and some trees. The overall scene is a rural landscape.
